FROM
FARMER, LITTLE & CO.

CHICAGO:
No. 154 MONROE STREET.
CHAS. B. ROSS, MANAGER.
1887.
TO THE AMERICAN PRINTING TRADE.

Gentlemen,

In this Book we present to our Customers, and the Trade in general, OUR LATEST DESIGNS in Book, News and Job Type Faces, also a full Selection of the best Standard Series contained in our Large Specimen Book, our New Brass Rules and an extended Price List. This Book, therefore, contains in condensed form the Specimens more fully shown in our Large Book, and will be of equal use to the Trade.

Our long experience in the Trade is a guarantee to our Customers that their requirements will be at all times well and efficiently met, and that the well-known quality of our Manufactures will be maintained in the future.

Our Standard Specimens are always in stock, and can be supplied promptly to order.

Everything in use by the Printer can be supplied at prices which will compare favorably with those of any other house in the Trade.

Yours very truly,

FARMER, LITTLE & CO.

154 Monroe Street, Chicago.

How to Estimate.

To ascertain the quantity of Plain Type required for a Newspaper or Magazine or any other work, find the number of square inches, and divide the same by four, and the quotient will be the approximate weight of material; but as it is impossible to set the cases entirely clear, it is necessary to add 25 per cent. to large fonts, and 30 per cent. to small fonts for dead letter.

Prices are subject to Change from time to time.

LEAD AND SLUG RACK.

The rack is divided into two apartments. The first is intended for 4 or 6 to pica leads, and the second for nonpareil slugs. It has series of graded spaces with bottoms inclining backwards, and also laterally, so that the leads and slugs will incline inward to prevent them from falling out, and also incline against each other to be retained in their respective places. By means of the figures, any size lead or slug wanted can be readily taken out or put in its place. It occupies but a very small space, and will hold 175 pounds of leads and slugs, cut from 4 ems to 28 ems.

Price, $2.50.

14-inch Lever Cutter

Squares 14 inches. Cuts 2 1/2 inches thickness of paper. This handy little Cutter will be found very useful in all Job Printing Offices. It will effect a great saving of time and labor in the cutting of small work, such as labels, bands, circulars, etc. Weight, 200 lbs.

Price, $45.00  Boxing, $1.00

Paragon Paper Cutter

22 1/4 inch Knife... $8.00  25 inch Knife... $10.00
30 inch Knife, Front Lever... $125.00
32 inch Knife, Front Lever... $225.00

Boxing, $7.00

Gauges to within a half inch of the Knife.

The 22 1/4 inch machine cuts 22 inches in length by 1 inch in thickness, also three inches in thickness by 20 inches in length. The 25 inch machine cuts full 25 inches in length by 3 1/4 inches in thickness, and the gauge runs back 24 3/4 inches from the knife. Either size cuts card board equally as well as paper. The full cut is made by one stroke of the lever.

It is fitted with a powerful screw clamp, back gauge moved by a hand wheel and screw, and side gauge, and is made throughout in the most substantial manner, having a solid iron frame and full iron table and stand.

NEW METAL FURNITURE.

Fonts of 25, 50 and 100 lbs., at 25 Cents per lb.

This Labor-Saving Metal Furniture, made to our regular standard, consists of pieces of 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 8, and 10 Picas’ width, and 4, 5, 6, 8, 10, 15, 20, 25 and 30 Picas’ length. A peculiar feature of this Furniture, and giving it great strength, is that the bearings are all cast solid, top and bottom alike, obviating any danger of breaking at the corners. The economy attained by the use of Metal Furniture is well known, and is now considered indispensable in any good printing office. A 25 pound font contains 245 pieces; a 50 pound font contains 300 pieces; a 100 pound font contains 345 pieces.

CIRCULAR QUADS.

Fonts, 8 Sets, $3.50.

This series of Circular Quads, while it comes within sufficiently reasonable prices, will be found just what is wanted for Card, Note, Bath and Letter work—the main classes of work requiring Circular Quads. The utility of Circular Quads in a printing office is now well established. Fonts can be either duplicated or sorts furnished, when additions are required.

FARMER, LITTLE & CO., TYPE FOUNDERS, CHICAGO.
LABOR-SAVING LEADS.

These Leads (and Slugs as they are sometimes called) are cast Six to Pica, Four to Pica, Nonpareil and Pica in thickness, and are cut to fourteen different lengths, viz.: 4, 4 1/4, 5, 5 1/4, 6, 7, 8, 10, 12, 14, 16, 18, 20 and 22 ems Pica. The smallest assortment of either thickness weighs 25 pounds, and by a combination of them, for example, over eight hundred medium 8vo. lines (22 ems Pica) can be leaded from a 25 pound font Six to Pica. They are cut very accurate, and the length of each lead is stamped upon it. The time saved in having them ready cut and stamped will soon pay for them, and if used, singly or in combination, as measures for setting composing sticks, the expensive practice of cutting up leads for jobbing can be done away with. Price 25 cents per pound for Four or Six to Pica; 22 cents per pound for Pica or Nonpareil—Stamped.

EUREKA LEAD AND SLUG RACK.

The rack is divided into two apartments. The first is intended for Four or Six to Pica Leads, and the second for Nonpareil Slugs. It has a series of graduated spaces with bottoms inclining backwards, and also laterally, so that the leads and slugs will incline inwards to prevent them from falling out, and also incline against each other to be retained in their respective places. By means of the figures any lead or slug wanted can be readily taken out or put in its place. It occupies but a small space, and will hold 175 pounds of leads and slugs, cut from 4 ems to 28 ems. Price, $6.50.

NUMBERED SLUGS.

Numbered Slugs have been in use for several years in the principal newspaper offices in this city. Each compositor has a few Slugs, corresponding with the number of his stand, and puts one before his matter on the proof-galley, so that his number is proved with the other matter, as the record of his work. They can be furnished of any face, electrotyped and cut to measure of column, for 15 cents each.

PAPER TRADE REVIEW
Exclusively Devoted to Printers and Paper Dealers

FARMER, LITTLE & CO., TYPE FOUNDERS, CHICAGO.
FARMER, LITTLE and CO. have much pleasure in presenting to their patrons, the American Printing Trade, this ORIGINAL AND BEAUTIFUL SERIES OF GOTHICS.

Feeling confident that it will meet a favorable reception; its appearance is peculiarly striking, while there is nothing fragile about it that could mar its usefulness.

THE INTRODUCTION OF THE PRINTING ART INTO GREAT BRITAIN

The Introduction to our land,
Between Corsells and Caxton stand;
Most authors have decreed,
Which has a right to lead the van,
The Foreign, or the Kentish man;
The learn'd are not agreed.

It boots us little now to know,
To whom our gratitude we owe,
The blessing we enjoy.
Corsells may claim a rude essay,
Caxton's the merit of our way;
He brought us this employ.

THIS beautiful Series of CARD GOTHICS has justified its production, being popular with the Craft Owing to The Originality of Its Design, And Serviceable and well-wearing Characteristics.

FARMER, LITTLE & CO., TYPE FOUNDERS, CHICAGO.
TO THE AMERICAN PRINTING TRADE.

63 & 65 Beekman Street, New York.

Gentlemen,

In order to keep abreast with the improvements made in the Type-WRiter, and still continue to present our Patrons with an exact "fac simile" of its improved work, we issue this NEW COPYGRAPH No. 3.

At the time our First Series of Copygraph was issued the work of the Type-WRiter was very defective, and it was necessary to copy the irregular "lining" of the letters as shown by its print. This has now been remedied, and its work shows an almost perfect "lining." We have adopted the improvement, and the letters in the Copygraph No. 3 will be found "in line."

Every improvement made in the Type-WRiter makes its use more general, and thereby increases the acquaintance of the general public with its characteristic printing. This will inevitably result in the enlargement of the trade for Copygraph Printing.

An entirely new face. It is not copied from type cast by any other Foundry. It is the production of this Type Foundry. We claim that it is the nearest approach to the work of the Improved Type-WRiter, and trust it will be accorded a hearty welcome by the craft.

For Important Communications, and for Circulars to which it is desired that special attention should be attracted, this letter has an appearance of personality not to be obtained by a circular printed from ordinary type.

Cancelled Characters the a & e furnished with each font.

Yours truly,

The business outlook has decidedly improved. The labor troubles are substantially at an end. The workingmen are generally employed at good wages, and the consumptive demand of the country was never greater, while there are no surplus goods in store. The crops promise well, while the prospect of a dry summer is encouraging. The prospects of the new crop are good. The outlook for the future is favorable.

The task to Sunset Rock runs along the side of the mountain above the gorge separating it from High Peak. The spot you reach first is a green glade, a lovely glade, brown flowers and the temples of the valley of the Hudson is obtained. The scene around you is truly inspiring and rather stately. You find yourself on the brink of a precipice. Away below you see a road, and still further below a stream runs down the ravine. The height is dizzy, but you follow the path around to Sunset Rock. It seems yet, for at one point the path becomes extremely narrow and winds over the top of a jutting rock where there is nothing to hold by and where a misstep is good for a fall of about one thousand feet. Sunset Rock itself is a huge overhanging rock, the top of which is quite flat and from which a gorgeous view of the ravine beneath and westwardly part of the range may be obtained. The sinking sun fills the valley with a flood of golden light, and the shadows soften to warm purple. The green sides of High Peaks, towering away above you on the other side of the cliff, are softened into a kind of haze. The sky is a brilliant blue.

CELEBRATED PICTURE SALE.

The great picture Gallery owned by the Duke of Hamilton at his seat, Melchior Castle, is now being sold. The Duke of Hamilton, who gave peace to Europe and placed his descendents among the wealthiest of England, has decided to sell all his pictures. The collection of a great gallery is a work of art and a work of art should be purchased and appreciated. The pictures are of the highest quality and of a great variety. The pictures are in excellent condition and are of a great variety. The price of the pictures is limited, and the art collector who purchases them will be able to appreciate their value and enjoy them for a lifetime.

SHORT AND SHARP SELECTIONS.

TREMENDOUS TO BE AGREED IN SOCIETY LISTEN WHILE THE OTHER MAN TALKS. IT IS NOT POSSIBLE FOR A MAN TO BE AT A MEETING AND NOT BE LISTENED TO.

RICHES WITHOUT FUN.—Men who mind their own business in this world get richer faster than the other kind of the other kind, but they lose lots of fun.

NORTH Versus SOUTH.—What if we try the South Pole? It is a thought that has crossed my mind. I believe that we should go to visit from the discoveries. Its Northern Light is something that might prove very interesting hereafter if treated to a little judicious application.

POISON IN ICE-CREAM.—The recent mis- hap will surely prove fatal to the summer ice cream business. If the stachin is to become the freezer’s afterthought, joint work changes have long been the legacy for Derby for a lousy show in pink and white.
THE LATEST NEWSPAPER SERIES.

AGATE No. 22.

The relation of guardian and ward, and in other words, of tutor and pupil, which covers so many titles of the Institutes and Pandects, is of a very simple and uniform nature; the person and property of an orphan must always be trusted to the custody of some discreet friend. If the deceased father had not signified his choice, the assignees or paternal kindred of the nearest degree were compelled to act as the natural guardians; yet the Athenians were apprehensive of exposing the infant to the power of those most interested in his death, but an axiom of Roman jurisprudence has pronounced that the charge of tutelage should attend the emolument of succession; if the choice of the father and the line of consanguinity afforded no efficient protector, that failure was supplied by the nomination of the mayor of the city or by the president of the province; but the person so named to this public office might be legally excused by insanity or blindness, by ignorance or incapacity, by public eminence or adverse interest, by the number of children or guardianships with which already he was burdened, and by the im-bind himself to his own prejudice, although it might bind others. His property is to be kept in account, and that what the exigency of the occasion requires, the public has the right of taking it in action for the violation of this sacred trust; the age of puberty had been fixed by the city and the provinces, but since the faithful guardian is to act according to the best of his judgment, he is subject to the advice and the orders of the public, and the public is responsible for the result of those events which cannot be foreseen, and which are not susceptible of precise instruction. The guardian is to be known by his personal name or of his guardian, a seal to be issued in his name and to be always kept by the guardian, and to be used by the guardian, and to be always kept by the guardian, and to be always kept by the guardian. If the guardian should cease to be, a new guardian should be appointed, and the public is responsible for the result.

If the deceased father had not signified his choice, the assignees or paternal kindred of the nearest degree were compelled to act as the natural guardians; yet the Athenians were apprehensive of exposing the infant to the power of those most interested in his death, but an axiom of Roman jurisprudence has pronounced that the charge of tutelage should attend the emolument of succession; if the choice of the father and the line of consanguinity afforded no efficient protector, that failure was supplied by the nomination of the mayor of the city or by the president of the province; but the person so named to this public office might be legally excused by insanity or blindness, by ignorance or incapacity, by public eminence or adverse interest, by the number of children or guardianships with which already he was burdened, and by the im-

bind himself to his own prejudice, although it might bind others. His property is to be kept in account, and that what the exigency of the occasion requires, the public has the right of taking it in action for the violation of this sacred trust; the age of puberty had been fixed by the city and the provinces, but since the faithful guardian is to act according to the best of his judgment, he is subject to the advice and the orders of the public, and the public is responsible for the result of those events which cannot be foreseen, and which are not susceptible of precise instruction. The guardian is to be known by his personal name or of his guardian, a seal to be issued in his name and to be always kept by the guardian, and to be used by the guardian, and to be always kept by the guardian. If the guardian should cease to be, a new guardian should be appointed, and the public is responsible for the result.

The relation of guardian and ward, or in other words of tutor and pupil, which covers so many titles of the institutions and Pandects, is of a very simple and uniform nature: the person and property of an orphan must always be trusted to the custody of some discreet friend. If the deceased father had not signified his choice, the aggregate or paternal kindred of the nearest degree were compelled to act as the natural guardians; yet the Athenians were apprehensive of exposing the infant to the power of those most interested in his death, but an axiom of Roman jurisprudence has pronounced that the charge of tutelage should attend the emolument of succession; if the choice of the father and the line of consanguinity afforded no efficient protector, that failure was supposing the nomination of the mayor of the city or the president of the province; but the person named to this public office might be legally excused by insanity or blindness, by ignorance or inability, by previous enmity or adverse interest, by the number of children or guardianships with which he was already burdened, and by the immunities which were granted to the useful labors of a magistrate, lawyer, physician or professor. Till the infant could speak and think as he was represented by a tutor, whose authority was finally determined by the age of puberty; and without his consent no act of the pupil could bind himself to any prejudice, although it might oblige others for his personal benefit. It is needless to observe that the tutor often gave security, and always rendered an account, and that the want of obligation to any public or private neutrality enabled him to a civil and almost criminal action for the violation of this sacred trust; the age of puberty had expired.

GREAT LIBRARIES make a few intelligent men and women; newspapers lift nations into the sunlight. Better have fifty millions of people only tolerably intelligent than a thousand Solons. The impression is abroad that newspaper knowledge must necessarily be ephemeral because periodicals are soon thrown aside, and not more than one person out of ten thousand ever keeps a file of the periodicals for future reference. But so far from being ephemeral, newspaper knowledge makes up the structure of the world's heart and brain, and decides the destinies of nations.

A GOOD advertisement in a widely circulated newspaper is the best of all possible salesmen—one who never sleeps and is never weary, who goes after business early and late, who accosts the merchant in his store, the lawyer in his office, the student in his study, and the clerk and the cashier at his desk; who can be in a thousand places at once, and address a million of people each day.

COLLEGES make lawyers, doctors, artists and evangelists, and we want colleges to make editors. Their position is so potent that the mightiest power for good to-day is a good editor, the strongest power for evil is a bad one.

EDUCATION does not mean merely reading and writing, nor any degree, however considerable, of mere intellectual instruction. It is in its largest sense a process which extends from the commencement to the termination.

The government of all schools for children must necessarily be of an absolute nature, depending from day to day on the will and word of the teacher. There must be no debate between master and pupil, no disputing by the latter of the former's complete authority, no criticizing of his motives or his policy, but strict obedience in every case, and a reference of all supposed unjust treatment to parents or trustees. But in seminaries and colleges, where long dresses and short beards abound, and the students are supposed to have arrived at something like years of discretion, and to be capable of understanding the causes of things, the little in-door world is more like a community, and government on any other than an approximately democratic basis is absurd. In this matter, as well as the cast-iron curriculum, we need a revolution. The idea that it is not the best thing for the development of a hundred young men of diverse tastes and capacities to jam them all into the same college mold, is faintly dawning on the minds of boards of managers and faculties, and what they want to learn next is to treat the young gentlemen and ladies under their charge as responsible human beings, possessed of some little share of that sense supposed to be common among men and women, and not as unreasoning children.

AGATE OLD STYLE NO. 2

The government of all schools for children must necessarily be of an absolute nature, depending from day to day on the will and word of the teacher. There must be no debate between master and pupil, no disputing by the latter of the former's complete authority, no criticizing of his motives or policy, but strict obedience in every case, and a reference of all supposed unjust treatment to parents or trustees. But in seminaries and colleges, where long dresses and short beards abound, and the students are supposed to have arrived at something like years of discretion, and to be capable of understanding the causes of things, the little in-door world is more like a community, and government on any other than an approximate democratic basis is absurd. In this matter, as well as the cast-iron curriculum, we need a revolution. The idea that it is not the best thing for the development of a hundred young men of diverse tastes and capacities to jam them all into the same college molds is foible and absurd. What we want to learn next is to treat the young gentlemen and ladies under their charge as responsible human beings, possessed of some little share of the sense supposed to be common among men and women, and not as unreasoning children.

Cæsar said to me, Dar'd thou, Cæsius, now
Leap in with me into this angry flood,
And swim to yonder point!—Upon the word.

Sumptuous Banquet and Entertainment Bought of The Gem of Types Received from

FARMER, LITTLE & CO., TYPE FOUNDERS, CHICAGO.
YORK, A CITY OF ENGLAND IN YORKSHIRE COUNTY.

York is surrounded by Ancient Walls, and Entered by Five principal Gateways and Five smaller ones.

At the head of the Public Buildings is the Cathedral
Which is the Glory of York. The greater part of the Building was erected in the 13th and 14th Centuries.

Now, York, or never, steel thy fearless thoughts,
And change misdoubt to resolution;
Be that thou hop'st to be, or what thou art
Resign to death; it is not worth the enjoying.

Saint Alban's little, won by famous York,
Shall be eterniz'd in all age to come,—
Sound, drums and trumpets!—and to London all;
And more such days as those to us befall!

NEW YORK, CHIEF CITY OF THE EMPIRE STATE,

The Harbor is a large Bay, with a circumference of 25 Miles, spreading before the City on the South side; it is deep enough for the largest vessels.

New York is admirably Situated, and is the Emporium of our European Trade.

Sweet Duke of York! our prop to lean upon.
Now thou art gone, we have no staff, no stay.
O Clifford! boisterous Clifford! thou hast slain
The Flower of Europe for his chivalry;
And treacherously hast thou vanquished him.

Great Lord of Warwick, if we should recount
Our baleful news, and at each word's deliverance
Stab poniards in our flesh till all were told,
The words would add more anguish than the wounds.
O valiant Lord! the Duke of York is slain.

THE WHITE ROSE OF YORK.

Yorktown, Virginia, situated on the South side of the River York,
Sixty Miles from Richmond.

Memorable in History as the Scene of the Surrender of Lord Cornwallis and his Army on the 19th October, 1781.

Off with his head, and set it on York gates,
So York may overlook the town of York.

And cited up a thousand heavy times,
During the Wars of York and Lancaster.
